New York, April 14 --- W.Ming is pleased to launch the 2020 Summer Art Education, led by Catherine Lan, as the part of W.Ming Education programs. This course will be presented on Zoom from May 9th to August 16th, 2020.

The 2020 Summer Art Education is an online drawing and creative art course for K 3-12 (age 7-18) children to hands-on-art-making through interdisciplinary and systematic approaches. The course is tailored for 2 different levels: 1) K3- K7 (age 7-12), Creative Drawing; 2) K7- K12 (age 13-18), Creative Art. Each course will begin with the utilization of more familiar art materials like pencils, colored pencils, colored markers and watercolors. In the subsequent part of the course, instructor will incorporate digital concepts, techniques, and tools, such as teaching pixels, grids, digital drawing and Photoshop. The course curriculum is designed to be more structured for the nature online learning and teaching. It optimizes both learning processes and outcomes, which includes the introduction, method analysis, modernist style's selection, and contemporary artists' works.

From the 2020 Summer Art Education, children can gradually learn basic drawing skills. They can understand how to use shapes, lines, colors, and lights through doing their own art projects. The instructor will guide students to observe and experience art's beauty, inspire students' potential artistic talent, and enhance the students' aesthetic and creative ability. In addition, art is not limited to a fixed frame. Under the influence of a brilliant artistic atmosphere and professional instruction, each child can find his or her own way to establish artistic creativity and a unique perspective to feel the world. And after the term, they will be able to have a sharp insight, lively imaginations, improved thinking skills and more emotional experiences with regard to art.
